Competition Procedures

Teeny Tiny Miss and Tiny Miss

Each contestant will compete and be scored in the following categories:

1. Personality Wear 50% of score
2. Dressy Wear 50% of score

Little Miss, and Young Miss:

Each contestant will compete and be scored in the following categories:

1. On stage question 20% of score
Each contestant will be asked an age appropriate question on stage.
2. Personality Wear 40% of score
3. Dressy Wear 40% of score

For modeling, the judges will consider the child's age as they look at:

- Poise – walking, turning, standing, coordination and grace
- Personality – attitude, confidence, energy and smile
- Appearance – hair, dress, make-up (not too much, please) accessories (shoes, jewelry, fingernails, hair ornaments etc) The judges will not be judging the quality of clothing but how it is put together and how the child looks.

In the event of a tie the judges will consider the Dressy Wear score. If a winner still cannot be determined the judges will then consider the Personality score.

Personality Wear-

Each contestant will model an outfit that reflects their personality or patriotic spirit. This may range from shorts to a dress or any age-appropriate attire that best represents who they are. Outfits should be tasteful and not overly revealing. Examples include a cute dress with cowgirl boots and accessories, or a patriotic-themed outfit that is stylish without being flashy or over the top.

Dressy or Formal Wear-

Each contestant will be required to model in a dressy or formal dress. Please choose a dress that is age appropriate, must be an appropriate length. For Teeny Tiny and Tiny Miss a short dress is suggested. It does not have to be extravagant; a church or Easter dress will work.

2. Church Events

All church-related events such as services, youth group functions, retreats, or mission trips will be accepted as excused absences.

3. Illness or Medical Reasons

Absences due to personal illness or medical appointments will be excused. A parent/guardian note or doctor's verification may be requested at the discretion of the pageant director.

4. Employment Conflicts

If a contestant is employed and cannot attend an event due to a work conflict, the absence will be excused only if AquaBoom did not provide at least two (2) weeks' notice of the event. If the notice is less than two weeks and the contestant is unable to get time off from work, it will be considered an excused absence.

Final Clause

The Pageant Director reserves the right to determine whether any absence is considered excused or unexcused, both prior to the pageant and throughout the duration of the court's reign following the crowning.
